

Stormwater Matters Public Education Spring 2008 Campaign

The Department of Public Works hosted a stormwater education campaign at various locations throughout the City from April to June 2008. Participants who viewed the informational display and completed a “stormwater survey” were eligible to win one of several prizes. On June 30, 2008, Mayor Cohen pulled the winning entries during his weekly press conference. See the list below for the winner’s names and prizes.

- ❖ Frank Propp of Newton Highlands is the grand prize winner of a Rain Barrel, donated courtesy of New England Rain Barrel.
- ❖ Brian Zabchuk of Newtonville is the winner of an executive-size umbrella.
- ❖ Deborah Lucenta of Newton Centre is the winner of Charles River note cards.
- ❖ Herbert Cole of West Newton is the winner of a rain gauge and flowering plant.

The stormwater display was exhibited at the Main Library, City Hall rotunda (for 2 weeks), the Green Business Solutions Expo, and for one morning at Rumford Ave Recycling Center during a Household Hazardous Waste Collection day.

If you would like to be a future hosting location for this or a similar environmental awareness campaign, please contact the City’s Environmental Engineer, Maria Rose mrose@newtonma.gov or 617-796-1056.
